ANNOUNCEMENT

FOR SEVERAL years the office of the American Short-Horn Breeders' Association has felt the need of an Index of Breeders, by States. No such index has before been prepared. It was undertaken that the office might be better equipped for convenient and effective work, and in answer to many requests from Breeders throughout the country. Those who have had the laborious and unsatisfactory experience of going through the general index of our Herd Books, in order to obtain a list of breeders of a given locality will no doubt appreciate this new Index. It is believed it will prove a great convenience to those who wish to advertise Sales, and it certainly will save time, and conserve the energy of all who wish to get in touch with the breeders of their own State.

It has been prepared by carefully revising the Index of the last 18 volumes of the Herd Book, and while it may contain names of a few breeders who have retired from the business, and may not include some new breeders who have made recent purchases, it will be found to be essentially correct. The Secretary will consider it a favor if breeders throughout the country will report the name of any new breeder whose name does not appear in this Index. Also report any duplications or errors that they may find.

As breeders of Short-Horns become more widely acquainted, as they study the history of the breed, and become better informed about its marvelous achievements and its unrivalled qualities, they will be better prepared to produce Short-Horns that will contribute to the breed's continued supremacy.

February, 1905.
